

PRAYING PEARLS

5 Values Imam Hussain (A.S.) Taught Us

That Kids Can Practice Today

A Muharram Reflection Series

Courage

Imam Hussain (A.S.) stood firm even when he was outnumbered, because he knew what he stood for was right.

Try this with your child:

Encourage them to speak up when they see something unfair, even if it feels scary.

Honesty

Imam Hussain (A.S.) never compromised the truth, even when lying would have been easier.

---

Try this with your child:

Praise them when they admit a mistake instead of hiding it. Show them honesty is brave.

Standing Up for What's Right

At Karbala, Imam Hussain (A.S.) refused to accept injustice, even when staying silent would have been safer.

Try this with your child:
Talk about small everyday choices, like not joining in when someone is being left out.

Sacrifice for Others

Imam Hussain (A.S.) gave up everything for the sake of his principles and for future generations.

Try this with your child:

Let them practice small acts of giving, like sharing a toy or their time with a sibling.

Patience in Hardship

Even in the most difficult moments, Imam Hussain (A.S.) remained patient and trusted in Allah.

Try this with your child:

When they're frustrated, gently remind them that patience is also a form of strength.

PRAYING PEARLS

Which value do you want your child
to practice this Muharram?

Share this with another parent

Follow @prayingpearls

